Why do we ask for your Social Security Number?

Individuals receiving academic credit must provide a social security number and date of birth so that we can create and/or maintain complete academic records. Individuals registering through Extended Education for non-credit programs or conferences are not required to provide a social security number or date of birth but may benefit from doing so.

Social security numbers are securely protected within the University's database. We will generate a unique student identification number for all individuals for reference purposes. However, the social security number allows us to verify information pertaining to individuals and helps students to access their individual records. If you are not familiar with your student identification number, you can still use your social security number to access your information. In this way, if you need confirmation of payments made to the University, we can provide the verification if we can accurately match your records through the social security number.

For students receiving academic credit, the Internal Revenue Service requires the University to file information returns that include the student's social security number and other information such as the amount paid for qualified tuition, related expenses, and interest on educational loans. That information is used to help determine whether a student, or a person claiming a student as a dependent, may take a credit or deduction to reduce federal income taxes.
