

Open to all

The information-sharing platform will be open to all those who wish to contribute or who are seeking information on disaster preparedness.

Expected project results

- a synthesis of the current knowledge in the field of disaster management and preparedness, including indigenous knowledge;
- effective exchange of experiences, best practices and cross-learning between practitioners by holding two regional workshops and establishing a website as a basis for knowledge networking; and
- strengthened capacity to perform multi-hazard risk assessments and hazard mapping by providing two training courses on "earthquake vulnerability and multi-hazard risk assessment".
