Regional Collaboration Mechanism on Disaster Health Management*

Preparedness (Peace Time)

Platform for mutual learning, information sharing, etc.

Response (Disaster Time)

Operation mechanism for on-site collaboration, serving own nationals, and assistance in border areas

Regional Capacity

Coordination/Collaboration with other sectors

Coordination/ Collaboration among AMS

Common tools (SOP, guidelines, minimum requirements, etc.)

Regular communication

National Capacity

Governance:

- Strategy/ Plan
- Guidelines
- Institutional arrangements

Sufficient quality and quantity of human resources

Resilient health facilities

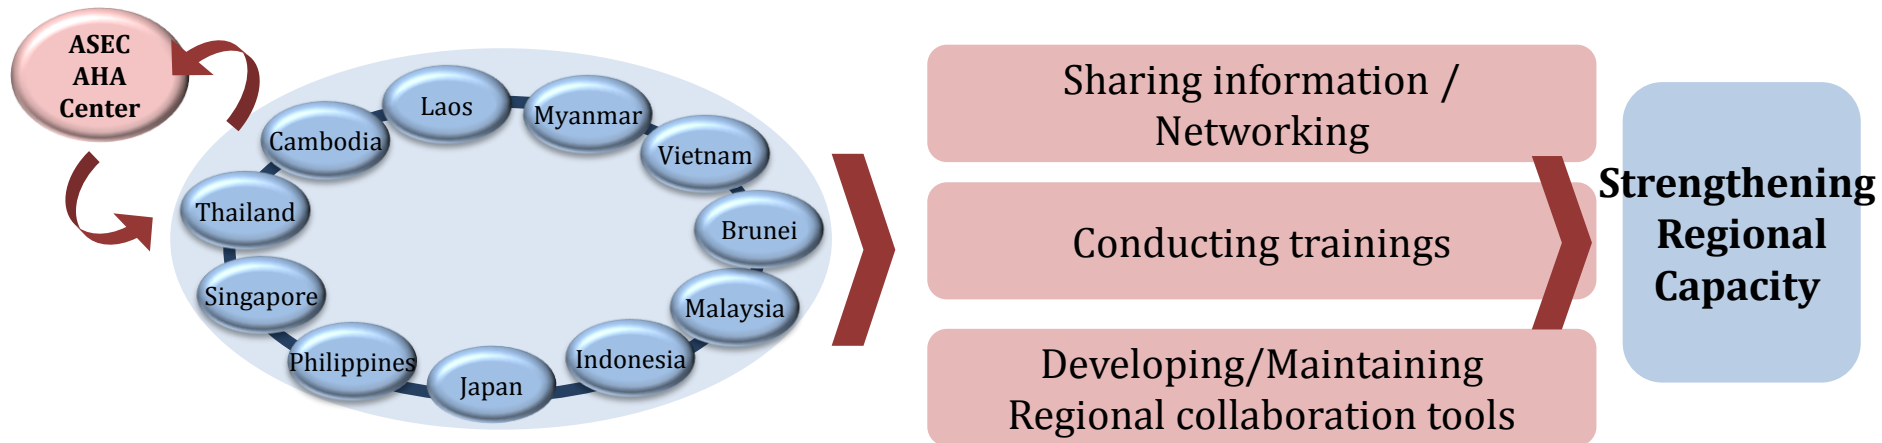

Relevant EMS capacities: emergency call and patient transportation, prehospital care, in-hospital care, MCI response, etc

*Note: It is understood that disaster health management includes disaster medicine (refer to Section 13.3.2(1)).

Future Vision of Regional Collaboration Mechanism

How does ASEAN collaboration mechanism work?

(1) Peace time

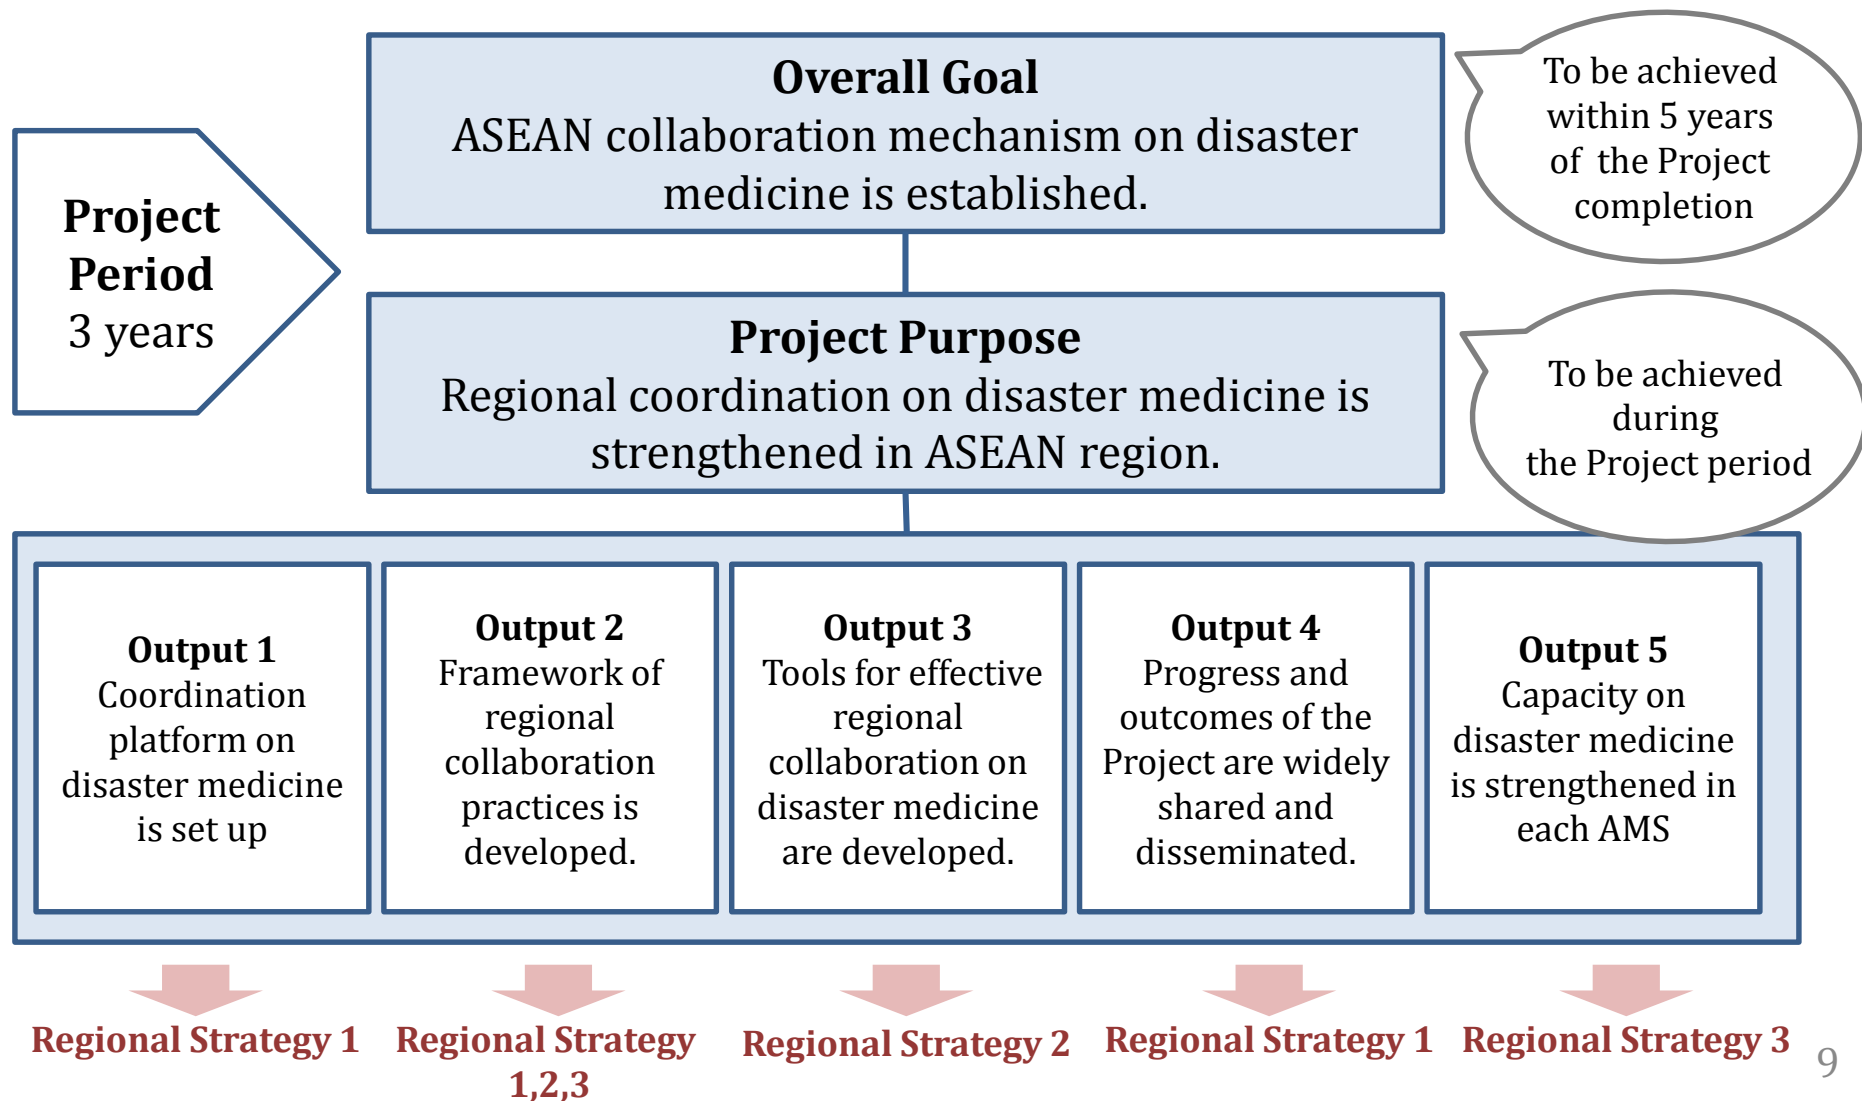

The mechanism works as

- a platform for mutual learning, information sharing, lesson/experiences sharing which contributes to strengthen personal connections and to develop capacity of each AMS.
- a platform of trainings to strengthen national capacity in each AMS
- a platform to develop and maintain regional collaboration tools such as standard of operational procedure(SOP), framework of health needs assessment and database of medical teams.

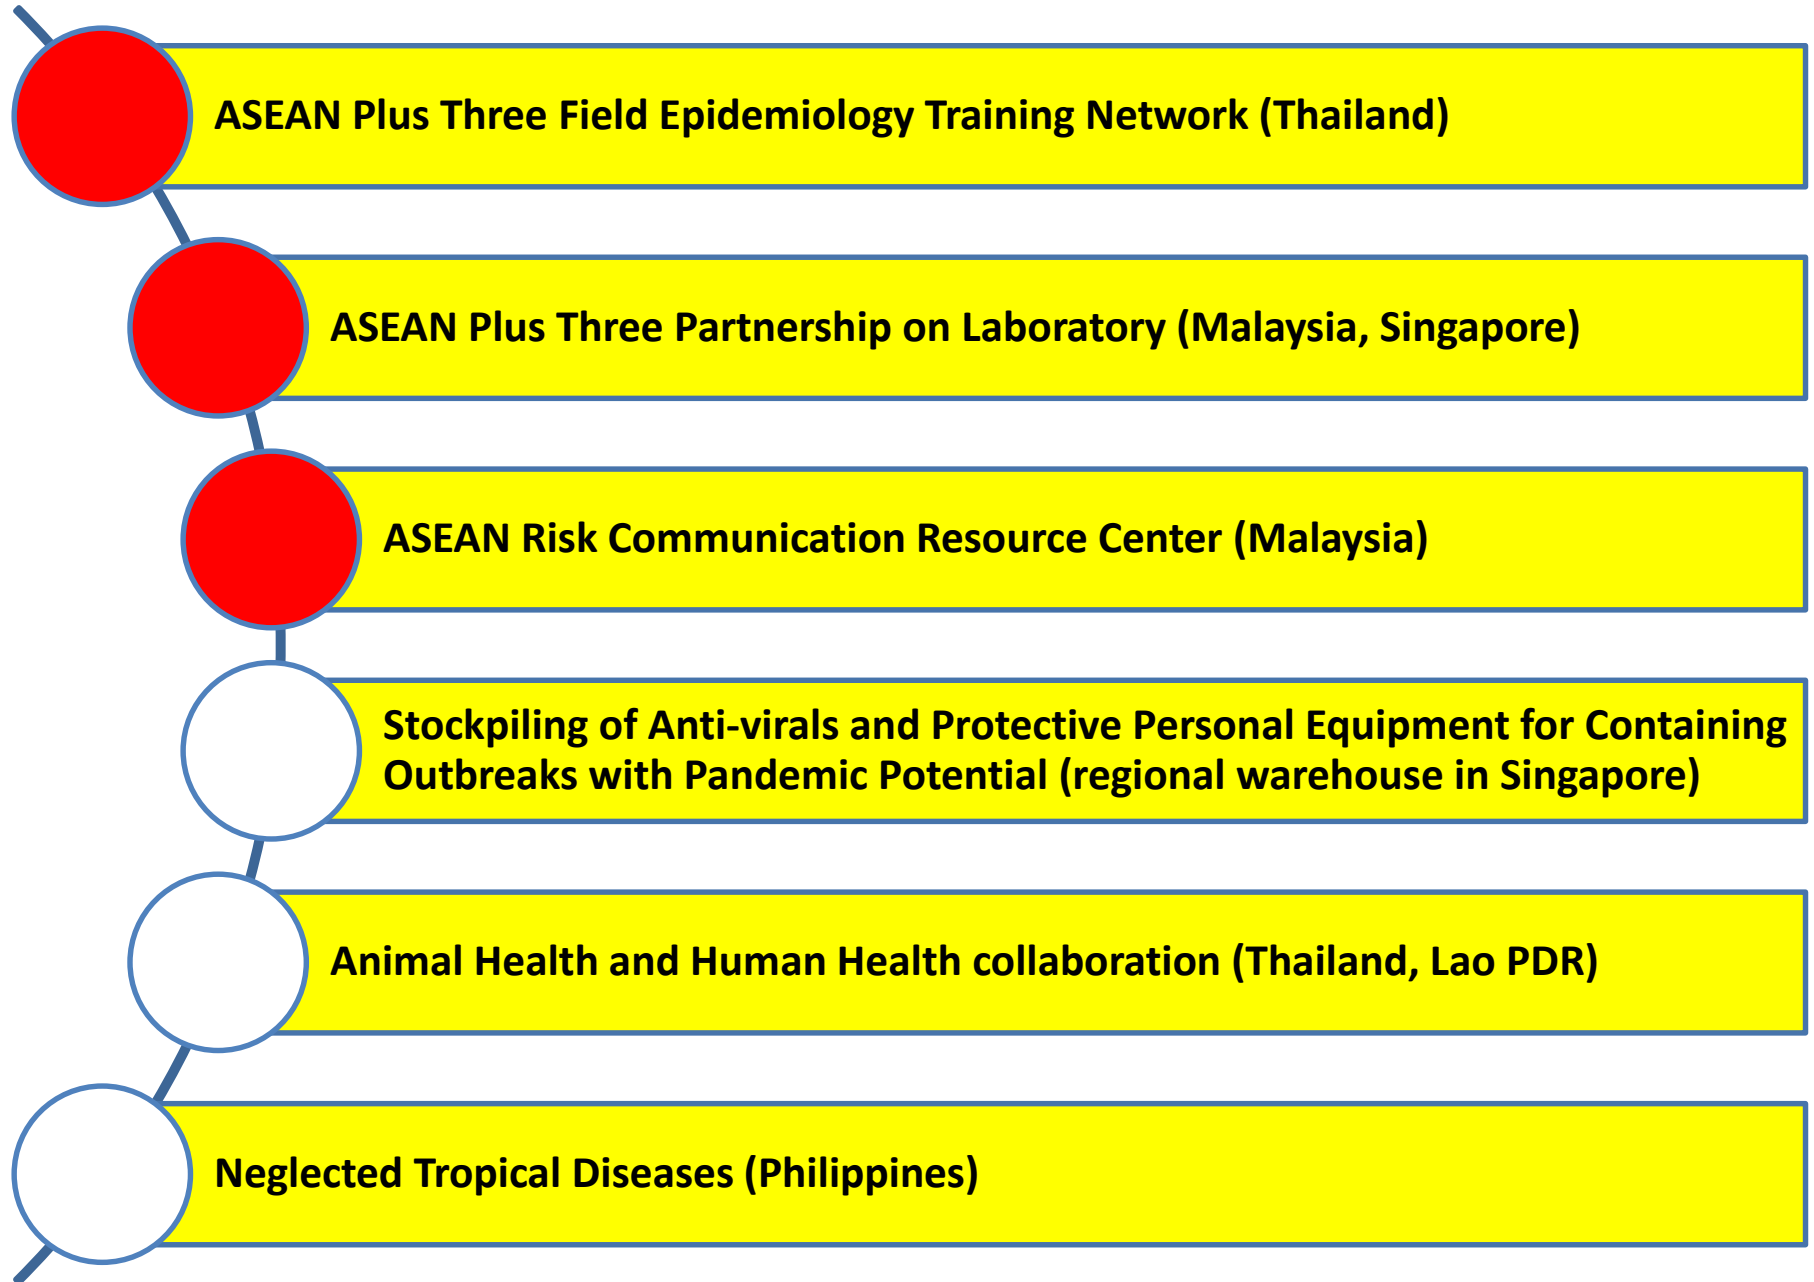

Note: Japan through JICA will support this collaboration mechanism

Recommendations/Messages

Leverage the significant role of regional organisations in promoting policy and programme coherence and promoting horizontal and vertical coordination at the policy and operational levels.

Place the people at the centre of development initiatives and ensure that no one is left behind.

Standardise the provision of relevant capacity building on health, provision of health care and other essential services, and engagement of health and non-health personnel during disasters through appropriate mechanisms of prevention, preparedness and response.
