Plenary A

What the humanitarian sector will look like in 2030

Guest speakers from academia, the Start Network, INGO's and National NGOs on what the humanitarian sector will look like in 2030. Presenting topics on the future of the humanitarian sector, future crises, what makes a resilient community, and how local organisations will play a future role.

11.00 - 12.30

Session 01

Integrated community - led response

How can community led response be the answer to localisation and bridge the humanitarian-development divide?

Panel discussions will be held between the DEPP LPRR project, Christian Aid, Article25, ICRC, KCL and Church of Sweden.

Session 02

Creating common humanitarian standards

An open discussion for all participants about common humanitarian standards in the sector.

The DEPP Talent Development project, Core Humanitarian Standards and the Humanitarian Leadership Academy will be presenting their findings on a common approach.

Session 03

Humanitarian Learning: What Works

We all know that capturing and sharing the learning that programmes generate is important for future programming and the wider sector. But although we have mechanisms and processes in place to do that, they don't always work exactly as planned.

Join us to share your own challenges and success stories around knowledge management and learning, hear from others, and compile a set of recommendations together.

Session 04

Future humanitarian financing models

With a changing humanitarian economy, the current model of funding will not be suitable for the future. This session will look at how anticipatory, flexible and pooled funding will develop a more efficient response.

This will be led by experts in anticipatory funding, humanitarian blockchain and global risk financing.

13.30 – 15.00

Plenary B

Resilience and protracted crises

The majority of people affected by crises, are in a conflict affected fragile state. This panel discussion will look at lessons and research presented from Saferworld, and Oxfam, Relief International and local NGOs working in fragile contexts.

15.30 – 17.00

Session 05

Working with local partners

Is the current model of working with local partners working? How do we need to improve this relationship.

Advice and round table discussion will be led by, Peace Direct, ICVA and the lead of a 7 consortium network of local agencies in Philippines.

Session 06

Making humanitarian responses more inclusive

How do we ensure no one is left behind when building more inclusive humanitarian resilience? Do we really understand and have the know-how to answer these questions and what does this means in practice?

These questions and more will be answered through an interactive session led by ADCAP, DeafKidz, Sense International, RNIB, Handicap International and Carers Worldwide

Session 07

'News you can use': Engaging communities in critical issues

An interactive session with CDAC Network resources developed on the DEPP, including: how to use emergency message libraries, media landscape guides, and rapid assessment tools; guidelines on using radio and volunteer networks to communicate with communities; designing programmes using a CwC marker; addressing rumours through a collective approach, and more!

Session 08

Data transparency in the humanitarian sector

How is the humanitarian sector going to adopt digital platforms, and how will these be transparent and open?

The Alert project along with HelpAge will be seeking consultations and solutions about how to do this in the future and discussing what the mutual code of conduct will be.

17.00 – 017.30 | CLOSING STATEMENTS
