

Thematic Platform on Emergency & Disaster Risk Management for Health

15h00-18h00, Monday 20 May 2013

15.00- Welcome & Health in the ISDR system	Welcome	Alistair Humphrey	Canterbury District Health Board
	Thematic Platform: progress report and daft plan of action for 2013-2014	Jonathan Abrahams	WHO, Geneva
15.20- Theme I Communities and Health	Engaging Indigenous Peoples in Disaster Risk Reduction	John C. Scott	Center for Public Service Communications, USA
	Nurse Managers' Perception of Hospital Resilience	Yuli Zang	Shandong University, China
	Lessons Learned from increased mortality risk amongst nursing home residents evacuated after the Fukushima nuclear accident in Japan	Shuhei Nomura	University of Tokyo, Japan
	Urban Health Emergency Risk Management	Arturo Pesigan	WHO Kobe, Japan
	Engaging IDPs, their surrounding communities and care providers in emergency risk management for health	Kaisa Kontunen	International Organization for Mitigation
	Discussion	All panelists
15.56- Theme II Research, Case Studies and Health	Health as driver for change in disaster and development: a theoretical and practical basis to how societal health mediates disaster reduction	Andrew E. Collins	Northumbria University, UK
	Strengthening National Emergency Risk Management for Health – case studies from Oman and New Zealand	Osman Dar	Public Health England, UK
	"It's Alright?": A research-informed social marketing campaign to assist and enable recovery after the Canterbury earthquake, 2010-11	Sarbjit Johal	Massey University, New Zealand
	Research priorities for community resilience: mitigating health risk in disaster and humanitarian crisis in the Asia Pacific Region	Emily Chan	Chinese University of Hong Kong, China
	Discussion	All panelists
16.26-	Break
16.35- Theme III Sexual and Reproductive Health	Integrating sexual and reproductive health within health emergency and disaster risk management	Jennifer Schlecht	Women's Refugee Commission
	Meeting SRH needs in context of humanitarian crisis due to natural disaster: various examples from field	Martin Migombano	International Planned Parenthood Federation /SPRINT
	Discussion	All panelists
16.55- Theme IV Pandemic, Climate and Health	The weather and climate community's contribution to improved health outcomes	Wayne Elliott	WMO, Geneva
	Preparedness and response to extreme weather events in the WHO European Region	Bettina Menne	WHO Regional Office for Europe
	Towards a safer world	Chadia Wannous	UN, Geneva
	Developments in pandemic risk management – new guidance from WHO	Adrienne Rashford	WHO, Geneva
	Discussion	All panelists
17.25- Theme V Countries, Communities and Health	Disaster risk management in Africa – the Uganda case study	Kalambay Kalula	WHO Regional Office for Africa
	Progress report on DRR for health: Public Health England	Virginia Murray	Public Health England, UK
	Scaling up emergency and disaster risk management for health at the community level	Antony Spalton	UNICEF, Geneva
	Discussion	All panelists
17.50- Health in the Post-2015 Framework for Disaster Risk Reduction	Implications for the Post-2015 Framework for DRR	Jonathan Abrahams	WHO, Geneva
	Close		